

We Take Threats Seriously

And so should you.

All students have the right to expect a learning environment that is free from threats.

Law enforcement agencies are concerned about student safety, and will work with school districts to resolve safety issues.

If you have been threatened by another student, report it to school administration.

We're serious.